

Planes Blast Power Plants

Stalemate War Now 2 Years Old

Seoul, Wednesday, June 25 (AP)—Allied warplanes heaped destruction on four big hydroelectric plants in north-eastern Korea Tuesday for the second straight day of assault on the source of power for Communist war factories.

The new blows fell at the end of the second year of the bloody, bitter—and now stalemate—war on this devastated Asiatic peninsula.

U. S. Fifth Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers again teamed up in the renewed mass pounding of hydroelectric power houses on Fusan and Changlin reservoirs in northeast Korea.

Smoke and flame mushroomed from the stricken plants. Pilots said destruction was complete.

The huge generating plant on the south bank of the Yalu river at Suho dam—blasted into a flaming shell Monday when all five plants were bombed—was not a target Tuesday.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark congratulated the Air Force and Navy for their massive raids which a Defense Department official in Washington described as a "get-tough" military policy.

The Defense Department official said the blow at the power sources for North Korea and parts of Manchuria was a direct result of Communist stalling at the Panmunjom truce talks.

"Threaten to Extend"

In London, Labor party members in the House of Commons protested that the attacks on the Yalu river hydroelectric plant threaten to extend the war.

(Prime Minister Churchill replied that they did not represent "any extension of the operations hitherto pursued or to go beyond the discretionary authority" of Clark, the allied supreme commander.

(Communist radios at Peking and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, made no mention of the raids.)

Pilots returning from Tuesday's strikes at Fusan and Changlin reported they had wrecked even further the four big plants.

U. S. Sabre jets, flying protective patrols far to the northwest, exchanged firing passes with five Communist MIG-15s, but reported no damage to either side.

On the 155-mile battlefield patrol clashes increased Tuesday in western and eastern Korea. A two-hour scrap was reported west of Chonwon—scene of heavy fighting during the past two weeks.

Except for allied seizure of advance hills northwest of Chonwon early in June, the battle front has remained generally stable since the armistice talks began at Panmunjom July 10, 1951.

Twisting from south of Parallel 38 in far western Korea, the front extends northeastward to a point some 30 miles north of the old political boundary on the east coast.

Korea thus is divided between north and south, as it was when the Reds launched their invasion of the United Nations-sponsored republic June 25, 1950.

Robert Enson, AP Tokyo bureau chief, reported that Tokyo observers there feel certain full scale fighting will break out again all along the line.

Judge Denies Ingrid's Request To Visit Daughter

Los Angeles, June 24 (AP)—A woman judge today denied Ingrid Bergman's request for a visit with her 13-year-old daughter in Italy this summer and rebuked any attempts to barter for the child's respect, love and affection.

In a lengthy opinion Superior Judge Mildred Lillie dealt sympathetically with the problem of the teenage Pia, caught in the middle of a bitter wrangle between the Swedish actress and her ex-husband, Dr. Peter Lindestrom.

"A child is not a piece of property to be bought and paid for, to be delivered under contract and to be withheld until it is convenient to seek his favor," stated Judge Lillie.

Miss Bergman petitioned the court to allow Pia to spend half the summer with her in Italy. Dr. Lindstrom opposed this, emphasizing that he did not believe Miss Bergman's home with her new husband, film director Roberto Rossellini, is the proper environment for Pia.

The actress' attorney, Gregson Buzter, told a reporter after the ruling that no appeal is planned. "I said that by the time it could be carried through Pia's school term would be starting again."

Yalu Bombing Raids Worry Great Britain

London, June 24 (AP)—The massive United Nations bombing of Yalu and other Communist power plants in North Korea stirred up a noisy storm in the House of Commons today.

At the moment, Secretary of State Acheson was here trying to fortify the British-American alliance against Russian diplomatic wedges.

A team of labor opposition leaders, including Prime Minister Clement Attlee, leftwing Aneurin Bevan, former Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell and Sydney Silverman denounced the raids as a threat to world peace. They said the action might extend the war because much of the power from the plant is used across the border in Manchuria, a part of Red China.

Prime Minister Churchill, apparently caught by surprise by the labor attack, defended the action of the U. N. commander, U. S. Gen. Mark W. Clark, but said he had not been consulted about it beforehand.

He fought off a demand for an immediate debate on the raid, but promised an early statement to the House. This may come tomorrow or Thursday after Defense Minister Earl Alexander returns from his visit to Korea and Washington.

Chicago Youths, Who Raped Women, Get 50-70 Years

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Two Chicago youths who raped a woman after locking her companion in an auto trunk were given 50 and 70 year prison terms today.

Chief Justice Thomas E. Kluczynski of Criminal Court described them as "jungle beasts and hardened criminals unfit for society."

The judge sentenced Albert Wilbers, 23, to 70 years in prison and James Behan, 17, to 50 years. Both youths pleaded guilty.

The victims were an 18-year-old Chicago girl and her companion, Martin Frer, 19, of Chicago but now serving as an Air Force corporal at an Idaho air base.

According to evidence presented during the trial, the two were eating outside a shrimp house at Navy pier April 22 when they were accosted by the defendants, one armed with a pistol and the other with a knife. Wilbers and Behan drove the couple to suburban Des Plaines where Frer was thrust into the trunk and the girl raped four times, twice by each defendant.

The youths were captured later in a downtown restaurant when the girl slipped away and tipped police.

Governor Adlai Resting Easy In Passavant

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson took it easy in Passavant hospital today.

The Illinois governor, who underwent a minor operation for removal of a kidney stone Sunday, was told he can leave the hospital Wednesday.

He had been scheduled for release today, but his physician advised him to have one more day of rest.

He sat up in bed today, read mail and newspapers and looked over some official papers he had fetched along in a briefcase.

The governor, scheduled to leave the hospital at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, plans to fly to Springfield, the state capital.

Charges Truck Group Violates State Law

Springfield, Ill., June 24 (AP)—An Illinois legislator today accused a truckers' group of illegal tactics in an attempt to line up votes for candidates it will favor in the November election.

Rep. Carl Preighs (D-Pana) said the Truckers-Legislative Association was violating a section of the state election code by distributing vote pledge cards committing signers to ballot in conformity with association wishes.

Preighs made the assertion at a hearing of a legislative commission studying traffic and motor vehicle law problems.

Other commission members joined in the criticism. The commission decided to lay the matter before Attorney General Ivan A. Elliott for an opinion as to legality of the practice.

The legislators had invited truckers to appear and give any recommendations for changes in laws affecting their industry.

Several protested steep increases that were fought in the courts bitterly but unsuccessfully.

UAW Defers Strikes At Jet Plants

Los Angeles, June 24 (AP)—The CIO United Auto workers today heeded a government request not to strike four plants producing Sabre jet fighter planes for Korea.

Federal Conciliator Harry Malcomb announced the union leaders agreed to postpone the strike, scheduled for midnight tomorrow. Some 25,000 workers are involved.

Meanwhile negotiations between the union and North American Aviation, Inc., continued tonight. The union is asking wage boosts totaling 28 cents an hour for workers in three plants in the Los Angeles area and one at Columbus, Ohio.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation service director, sent messages tonight to the union requesting a strike postponement. He asked North American and the UAW to send representatives to government-sponsored bargaining sessions beginning Thursday noon.

Ching's message said: "The Defense Department has informed me that a stoppage would cut off the sole producer of the P-86 Sabre jet which has been assigned the highest priority on the Department of Defense master urgency list."

"The Air Force has today advised me that the loss of even a single day's production of the Sabre jet would have a serious effect on our operations in the Far East."

The Sabre jet is the mainstay of United Nations forces for bomber protection in Korea. A fleet of 100 Sabre jets accompanied the bombers in yesterday's 500-plane raid on North Korean hydro-electric power plants, just below the Manchurian border.

Ching said the Defense Department joined in the "urgent request" that the scheduled strike be postponed.

The California plants are located at Inglewood, Downey and Fresno. They employ about 15,000 workers, with 10,000 employed at the Columbus, Ohio, plant.

The UAW has demanded a 28-cent-an-hour wage boost and other improvements. The workers now get up to $22.23 an hour. The company has offered a five-cent hourly increase, officials said, to bring North American workers up to wage rates paid by Douglas Aircraft and approved by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Military Adviser To Indo-China Evident Suicide

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Francis G. Brink, chief of the American military assistance mission to Indo China, was found fatally shot late today in a Pentagon office.

He died while being hurried to Walter Reed Army Hospital. A spokesman for the Defense department said a pistol was found by his side.

Brink, 58, arrived here from Indo China about two weeks ago for staff conferences.

The District of Columbia coroner, Dr. A. Magruder McDonald, was notified by the hospital of the death.

Friends said the general had been badly depressed during his stay in Washington.

Brink, a native of Marathon, N.Y., was named chief of the United States military assistance advisory group in Indo China in October, 1950.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Brink, who remained in Saigon, French Indo China, while the general came to Washington, and a daughter, Mrs. W. W. Wells, Falls Church, Va.

SOUVENIR COLLECTOR

London, June 24 (AP)—London bobbies nailed veteran streetcar official Albert Marks as he walked off with two streetcar seats.

He told a judge today that London's last streetcar goes out of service July 5 and he wanted a souvenir.

Marks was acquitted after he paid two pounds ($5.00) for the seats.

Illinois Corn Near 18 Inches

Springfield, Ill., June 24 (AP)—Illinois corn averages nearly a foot and a half in height, the state federal agriculture departments and weather bureau said today.

Aided by good sunshine and generally sufficient moisture, the corn is growing rapidly. Much of the crop has had its second cultivation and is awaiting a third.

House Group Approves A-Weapon Expansion

Political Review

By the Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft fired new salvos at each other Tuesday with the general lambasting Taft as an advocate of "sit at home" tactics keyed to air power as America's defense line.

Eisenhower said firmly he does not believe mere hit-back power is enough to win peace.

Taft, in turn, ripped into Eisenhower for his failure to attack the Truman administration's foreign policy which he said has plunged this country into "a mess."

"I had hoped he (Eisenhower) would develop an attack on the administration, but he seems content to attack Republicans," Taft said in a speech at Hershey, Pa.

While Eisenhower termed his campaign against what he pressed a "retreat into isolationism," Taft called anew for Allied air strikes against Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria.

The Ohio Senator, Eisenhower's chief rival for the Republican presidential nomination, told a news conference he does not believe Monday's big air strike against enemy hydro-electric plants in Korea will lead to World War III.

"We should have done it long ago," Taft said, referring to the fact that the plants had previously been left untouched.

All through the Korean war, two years old Wednesday, targets in Korea Manchuria have been out of bounds to Allied airmen.

In Denver, Gen. Eisenhower scoffed at Taft and others who, he said, would "sit at home with an air force to be dispatched into the wild blue yonder" to strike back at any aggressor.

While Eisenhower thus appeared to be widening the breach between himself and Taft on foreign policy, the general told newsmen "I fervently hope" a foreign policy plank would be written into the Republican platform that would be acceptable to both.

He said he doesn't want to see "a bitter fight" over the question at the GOP nominating convention in Chicago, July 7.

Taft himself appeared supremely confident of winning the nomination on an early ballot—if not the first—as he told reporters that on a "very conservative" estimate he figured he has about half of the total GOP delegate strength on his side.

Nominations requires 604 votes—one more than half the total.

The latest Associated Press tabulation shows Taft leading Eisenhower, 478 to 395. This is based on delegates pledged, instructed or willing to state a first ballot choice and on candidate concessions.

All GOP delegates have now been chosen, with 204 in dispute or undecided.

Taft was in Pennsylvania, meeting with Gov. John S. Fine, in an attempt to woo support from one of the biggest uncommitted blocks left in the country.

After an hour-long talk with Taft, Gov. Fine still refused to say whether he has made up his mind between the Senator and the general. His decision could be a decisive factor in the Chicago convention.

In Washington, Capitol Hill buzzed with reports that Taft backers may seek to make Gen. Douglas MacArthur the vice presidential nominee.

MacArthur has come out openly for Taft and has tossed barbs in Eisenhower's direction on several occasions. Some Taft supporters were said to believe MacArthur could be persuaded to accept the No. 2 spot—if Taft wins the GOP nomination—and go on a coast-to-coast stump tour for the senator.

RECOVER BODY OF DROWNED GIRL, 13

Rock Island, Ill., June 24 (AP)—The body of Sandra Massey, 13, was recovered today from the Mississippi river about a quarter of a mile below the spot where she drowned June 14. Her father, James Massey, 39, drowned trying to save her. His body was recovered almost immediately.

Ease Curbs On Color TV Sets

Washington, June 24 (AP)—A House appropriations subcommittee today approved a $1,450,000,000 atomic expansion program, designed to make nuclear weapons available for all the U. S. armed forces.

This was less than half the supplemental appropriation of $3,191,000,000 which the atomic commission had asked for its vast expansion program during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.), who often acts as subcommittee chairman, told a newsmen of the subcommittee action and at the same time said it approved the full budget request of 150 million dollars asked for the Tennessee Valley authority to construct steam-electric power plants to support the atomic program.

A "complete family" of atomic weapons, suitable for use by all the U. S. Armed Forces, will be turned out under the proposed expansion, officials disclosed. The program includes a new production plant and expansion of facilities now existing or being built.

Some details of the projects—and the reasons why they are being urged—were disclosed with the release of testimony on the bill to provide the money recently requested by President Truman.

Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission told the appropriations subcommittee that the whole concept of how atomic weapons can be used in warfare has been drastically revised.

"It is now possible to have a complete family of atomic weapons, for use not only by strategic bombers, but by ground support aircraft, armies and navies," Dean said.

The big piece of the money—$1,197,350,000—is for a brand-new atomic plant probably in the Ohio Valley. The AEC told the committee a site is to be selected. Delegations from Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee have been in Washington in recent weeks trying to get it for their area.

Danville Sheriff Says 3 Escapees Nabbed In Denver

Danville, Ill., June 24 (AP)—Sheriff Herbert Culp said he was notified today that three youths who escaped from the Vermilion county jail in Danville last Thursday had been arrested in Denver, Colo., Monday night.

The three fugitives are Robert Shepherd, 22, of Danville; Harry Stevenson, 20, of Westville, Ill.; and Jackie Covert, 16, of Wheelersburg, O.

Covert was a federal prisoner awaiting delivery to a federal prison to serve a one-to-three-year sentence for transporting a stolen automobile across a state line.

Shepherd was awaiting delivery to the state prison at Menard, Ill., to serve two concurrent one-to-three-year terms for reckless homicide and violation of probation.

Stevenson had been held on charges of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent at the time he had been charged with unlawful flight to avoid arrest. The other fugitives have been charged with aiding and abetting a federal prisoner to escape.

The sheriff said Denver police told him the three youths were in a car stolen at Willow Springs, Mo. when found.

Home Furnishers Seek Dual Purpose

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—Makers of bedding and dual-purpose sleeping equipment have been very optimistic in their estimates of business done at the annual furniture market in Chicago, a check today showed.

Reason for this attitude on the part of the bedding firm is the increased use of the sofa or lounge which doubles as a bed at night, they say.

With the average home or apartment getting smaller, most consumers want and need furniture which can perform more than one function. As a result, developments in the lounge-bed and sofa-bed fields are rapid these days. All the major manufacturers are showing several new colors and types of fabrics in these pieces at the merchandise mart and American Furniture Mart showrooms. And they all have re-styled their products to bring them more in line with developments in the "modern" or "contemporary" lines.

Nylon and foam rubber are showing up in more of the pieces, although these materials usually boost the price of the merchandise.

NO MONEY FOR ROCK ISLAND POST OFFICE

Washington, June 24 (AP)—There appears to be little prospect for a new post office at Rock Island, Ill., within the next few years.

C. H. Carle, director, division of post office quarters, told a reporter today the Post Office Department has recommended a new building be erected in Spencer Square there.

However, he said, the department has no money to build it and Congress has shown no signs of appropriating any.

Official Urges United Drive For Charities

Chicago, June 24 (AP)—A charity official today advocated a single united charity campaign to take the place of overlapping fund raising in American cities, but at least one organization announced later it will stick to its specific appeal.

John S. Bugas, general chairman of Detroit's United Foundation, spoke before an Illinois conference on fund raising. Some 400 community leaders from 54 Illinois cities attended the meeting to get information on united campaigns.

Bugas, also vice president in charge of industrial relations for the Ford Motor company, told the meeting his company is working on a plan for a unified fund drive each year in the two Chicago Ford plants.

The plan has been successful in Detroit and other cities, he said.

In the midst of all our post-war prosperity," Bugas said, "the American people have come to feel they are being asked to do more for their means and patience by a steadily increasing parade of appeals that seems to have no end."

But Edward Foss Wilson, president of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., said after the meeting his organization would not support a united charity campaign in Illinois.

Methodists Name Rock River Superintendents

Naperville, Ill., June 24 (AP)—Two district superintendents were appointed today at the opening session of the 113th Rock River annual conference of Methodists.

They are Dr. Paul L. Benedict, pastor of the First Methodist church, DeKalb, and the Rev. C. Wesley Israel, pastor of Austin Methodist church, Chicago.

Dr. Benedict will become superintendent of the Joliet-Dixon district and Rev. Israel will be in charge of Chicago Southern district.

Re-appointed as district superintendents were the Rev. Ray Bond, Chicago Northern; the Rev. Herbert Rhodes, Chicago Western; and the Rev. Milton D. Bayly, Rockford.

The five superintendents assist Bishop J. Ralph Magee in administration of the Rock River area, which extends roughly from the Wisconsin state line 40 miles south of Chicago and from Lake Michigan and the Indiana line to the Mississippi river.

Anti-Vice Group Says Cairo Police Retaliate

Cairo, Ill., June 24 (AP)—A new Cairo citizens committee, which claims the city's vice and moral conditions need cleaning up, was reported today to be the target of a counter offensive.

The Cairo Evening Citizen said Monday that "officials of the city administration are reported to be withdrawing city business from local businessmen who are members" of the reform organization.

The committee's president and secretary have been arrested on charges of failing to have certain city licenses.

Mayor Ebert A. Smith has issued no statement on the latest developments.

However, speaking about the new committee to city council Monday, Smith said he believes Cairo to be one of the best cities in this part of the country. Cairo is in southern Illinois at the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers with a 12,000 population.

Smith ascribed Cairo's lack of fast progress to disunity. He said he had repeatedly ordered police to enforce gambling, liquor and other laws.

The committee's president was arrested Monday night in a hotel as he prepared to attend a Rotary meeting. The warrant charged Walter Warden with failing to have on his person a garage operator's license costing $5.00. Warden, an auto dealer, pleaded guilty before police magistrate Max Bevil and was fined $53.

Warden issued a signed statement to the Evening Citizen Tuesday, charging that the city administration timed the warrant to embarrass him before fellow Rotarians.

Hot Air From Texas Wilts Midwesterners

By The Associated Press

Hot, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico poured into a wide area of the north Tuesday.

It was another heat wave, measured by temperatures that soared into the high brackets and betokened by collars that wilted on damp necks.

The mercury got up to 93 in mid-afternoon in Chicago. And that was only a sample of readings in a swelterbelt that extended from Texas to the Great Lakes and from Nebraska to Pennsylvania.

St. Louis was getting along as best it could in the hottest spell on record there for the late spring-early summer period. For the first 23 days in June the average high temperature has been 92.6 degrees.

Storms blended of violent winds and heavy rain struck Monday night and early Tuesday in northern areas of the Midwest. They caused three deaths.

Winds of tornadic velocity slashed at northwestern Wisconsin. Two men were killed in Centuria, Wis., when their homes were shattered by the wind.

Strong winds skipped across northwestern Iowa leaving considerable crop and property damage in their wake. Drive-in theaters were demolished in Milford and Esterville. No loss of human life was reported but many head of livestock were killed.

Destructive winds also swept parts of Minnesota and South Dakota. A man was killed by lightning in Duluth, Minn. Scores of barns were blown down. Gusts up to 65 miles an hour were reported at the Minneapolis airport.

Fowl Hunting Season To Open October First

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Chapman said today Oct. 1 will be the earliest opening date for the 1952-53 migratory water fowl hunting season with Jan. 10 as the latest closing date.

Chapman said a liberalized system for opening dates is being adopted under which the states can have their first day of gunning any date on or after Oct. 1.

Regulations previously had specified that the season should open in a state on a Friday. Chapman said the change is intended to establish more satisfactory regulations, both from the standpoint of the states and the hunters.

The length of the shooting season and daily bag limits, as well as the pattern of shooting days to be allocated the states according to the particular flyway in which they are located, will not be announced until about Aug. 29 or 30.

Director Albert M. Day of the Fish and Wildlife Service said the regulation fixing noon as the hour of opening the first day of shooting in any states will continue in effect.

PIGEON TROUBLE

Maysville, Ky., June 24 (AP)—The century-old clock atop Mason county courthouse is silent today.

It's not age—it's pigeons. The mechanism quit Monday and when the caretaker climbed to the tower, he found pigeons flying against the pendulum.

As a cure, County Judge John Lord ordered the tower screened to keep out the birds.

SOVIETS TIME BELLIGERENT ACTS TO KEEP POWER LEGAL ALIVE

The Soviet action in shooting down an unarmed Swedish rescue airplane is reminiscent of a similar incident two years ago when the Russians knocked out a defenseless U. S. naval plane in the same Baltic Sea area.

The Russians naturally have come up with their customary phony explanations, blaming the whole thing on the harmless victims, saying they were flying over Soviet Territory and that they fired first.

Probably the Kremlin doesn't expect anybody with a clear head to swallow this guff. It can have effect only on those deluded souls who still think there are big grains of truth in anything the Russians say. Unfortunately, there may be more of these souls than we like to concede, since Moscow's transparent fabrications about germ warfare in Korea seem to have been accepted by many naive Europeans.

This newest show of Russian depravity, however, need not be interpreted as a sign that the Soviet armies are spoiling for a fight. It may actually be evidence of the exact reverse.

What is entirely likely is that the Russians have a pathological fear of being discovered in their weakness. The sharpest experts we have on the Soviet Union rate the Reds seriously weak in important economic categories vital to the prosecution of a war.

This does not mean the Russians do not have a large standing army, a huge backlog of planes and tanks and other weapons, and a great share of their industrial production devoted to the output of arms. But it does suggest that this tremendous facade of strength might crumble in a long conflict with America.

The Russians dare not let the legend of their military might lose force. It is perfectly in character with that purpose to put on an occasional show of belligerence in the general zone of their borders. They undoubtedly believe they may thereby suggest to the free world that Russia's fringe is bristling with impregnable defense strong points.

Such incidents as this have their value for Russian home consumption, too. Dictators live on artificially generated fears of outside enemies. What better way to convince the poor, depression-ridden Russian that his burdens are necessary than to dream up a real, live foreign plane sauntering suspiciously over Soviet soil?

The event is new, but the method and the goal are old. We shall never have an end to this kind of thing so long as we have nations ruled by men who know only the raw creed of power for the sake of power.

TIPS FOR TANNERS

Recognizing that getting a coat of tan is now as much a health fad as taking vitamins, various how-to-keep-well columnists and health authorities continue to issue official and semi-official tips for tanners. The advice invariably is accompanied by warnings that the invisible ultra violet rays, which do the tanning, also have the power to burn and that such a burn does not differ in quality or possible serious consequences from one caused by scalding water or steam.

"Natural blondes," says one medical savant, making a distinction between the real and the synthetic, "and red heads in general burn more readily than others because of their more delicate skin. Brunettes tan more easily than they burn. There are persons with extremely sensitive skins who should expose themselves to as little direct sunlight as possible."

Urging moderation, a columnist suggest that sun should be taken in small doses of not more than ten minutes at first.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—There is no cemetery here in the birthplace of the atom bomb.
That fact is a clue to the biggest defeat of living in a government-built community that is meant to last many years.
As one of the 12,800 workers in this heart center of America's atomic weapon research put it:
"People come, people go. But nobody really feels it is home. Very few expect to die here, and I guess that is why there isn't any cemetery."
Los Alamos today is perhaps the most unusual community in the nation. When it was conceived in 1943 it was thought it would never grow beyond a population of 700.
Now it is a small city of nearly 13,000 scientists and technicians.

The question before the house is when they are going to come down in price to the point where we can buy one?
Hey, kids, if mom won't let you go swimming, just bury your face in a large slice of watermelon.
Some political candidates can apply for caddy jobs after election—when they get used to being left holding the bag.
With all the "Keep Off the Grass" signs displayed, we wonder why they call them public parks.
Lots of dub gal golfers run up high scores—and then go around the courses in very little.

A major source of discontent is that nobody here can own his own home in Los Alamos. He can only rent it from the government. Many workers leave because of this. They want to settle down in a place where they can own their own house.
An American doesn't want to die in a town where he can't even buy a home. Los Alamos was here for a long, long time. It is vital to the nation.
But it will never be a real city until the people who work here have a feeling of ownership and community interest—until they can buy a home and a graveyard plot.
Until this happens—if it ever does—Los Alamos will remain only a government collection of brilliant intellectuals in transit, their minds here, and their hearts elsewhere.

Hollywood —(NEA)— Behind the Screen: Interest in a movie biography of the late Lon Chaney—the screen's man of 1,000 faces—is beginning to mount on flicker row. One independent producer has already approached Lo's son, who's carried his father's name through 190 films, on the idea.
There will be no family objection to putting the story on the screen. Lon Chaney told me on Warner's "Springfield Rifle" set.
"My mother objected to some articles written about my father after his death," Lon said, "so we've avoided any talk about a movie until now."
Lon on the subject of an actor who could play his father: "Paul Muni in his heyday would have been perfect. I wouldn't insist on playing it myself. I couldn't do it unless they'd let me act like my old man did instead of directing me."

Richard Burton, the sensational British actor who will play the young hero opposite Olivia de Havilland in "My Cousin Rachel," flunked the screen test he made for Fox with a scene from the best-seller. But George Cukor showed Darryl Zanuck a print of a British movie that Burton made, "Woman of Dolwyn," and the actor was signed pronto.

Reports from Europe say that Joan Fontaine's movie, "Decameron Nights," is so torrid in content—it's taken from Boccaccio's spiky tales—that it should be retitled, "The Candid Decameron Nights."

NEVER FEAR

There will be no love scenes between Ethel Merman and Donald O'Connor in the movie version of "Call Me Madame"—just in case you're worrying about how Ethel and Donald would look in a clinch.

The Coconut Grove 30th anniversary brought back a flood of memories of Bing Crosby warbling there for $50 a week—when he showed up—and the queer sketch artist who could do wonder with a violin. The manager needed entertainment for American musicians and the artist, Xavier Cugat, became an orchestra leader.

Busty, blonde Cleo Moore, due for a Marilyn Monroe buildup by Columbia, will star for Producer Hugo Haas next in "The Guest from Hell." It's a modern version of the Faust legend.

Sign of the times note Twelve of the beautiful dolls who work as waitresses at the Palm Springs Doll House were offered movie contracts this season. All turned them down. Mack Sennett is reactivating plans to refilm Mabel Normand's biggest movie hit, "Molly O." Olivia de Havilland, claims Mack, is the only actress in Hollywood who could play the comedy role.

Producer Hal Roach, explaining the lost art of creating movie stars: "You don't develop movie stars by writing movies and then casting them. That's reverse. English. You write stories, especially FOR new talent. That's the way Hollywood did it at the peak of the star era before World War II."

SHE SCORE AGAIN

Martita Hunt, who scored on Broadway a few seasons back in "The Madwoman of Chailiot," will play Jose Ferrer's mother in John Huston's production of "Moulin Rouge."

Titles with "American" and "U. S. A." in them are being dropped in London. "Jim Thorpe, All-American" is showing as "Man of Bronze," and "Deadline, U. S. A." is marquee merely as "Deadline."

Ground will be broken this summer on "Flynn's Inn," a big hotel project financed by Errol Flynn at Apple Valley, 100 miles from Hollywood.

There's a good chance John Barrymore, Jr., will play a comedy role with his aunt Ethel in her television series, "The Ethel Barrymore Theater." About her nephew with the famous name she told me:

"He has a lot of natural talent as a comedian. It's a great thing to have a sense of humor in this business. That's why my brother John's Hamlet was so good."

Answer to the "Where's cowboy Tex Ritter these days?" question: Tex is headed for London to star in the big city's first indoor rodeo since 1920, with a flock of U. S. Cowboys, cowgirls and Indians.

Joe E. Lewis about a shapely starlet: "She's the kind of a girl you could take home to mother—when father isn't home."

Europeans, In Opinion Poll, Call USSR Most 'Warlike and Aggressive'

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington —(NEA)— Not all the polls being taken this year have to do with who's going to be the next U. S. President. International public opinion samplers have been beating the bushes overseas to find out what Europeans really think of America, American foreign policy, themselves and of Russia.
United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization —UNESCO—ran something called an International Tensions Project. It showed a list of 12 adjectives to representative people in nine foreign countries and asked them to pick out the words that best characterized other nations, and themselves.
The European majorities regarded themselves as "Brave Intelligent, Peace-loving." The Americans were characterized primarily as "Practical, Progressive and Generous," but also as "Materialistic, Self-centered, Nervous." Russia was characterized as the most "Warlike" and "Aggressive" except by Communist sympathizers, who put Russia first as "Peace-loving."

International Public Opinion Research, Inc., ran a more detailed and specific poll on European attitudes toward U. S. foreign policy objectives.
It showed West Europeans did not regard American policies with complete trust. British, West German and Swedish people were found to be much more pro-U. S. in their views than Frenchmen and Italians. Fewer than ten per cent of the people interviewed in all these countries said they "mistrusted" the U. S.
Seventy-four per cent of the British and West Germans, 68 per cent of the Swedes felt the U. S. was doing everything it could to prevent war. But only 31 per cent of the Italians thought so. Fifty-six per cent of the Italians still felt that Allied bombings in their country during World War II were unnecessary, militarily.

"Surprise" Coming in Air Defense
U. S. Air Force insists that its joint exercise with the Royal Canadian Air Force to test North American air defenses is going to be a big "surprise" to the 250,000 watchers and spotters involved, although a press release has been issued telling all about it.

The maneuver has even been given a name—"Operation Signpost." And the dates have been announced—July 19 and 27.

Still, the Air Defense Command under Gen. Benjamin Chidlaw is making all its plans under tight security wraps, and won't talk about the details.

"Aggressor" planes will try to "invade" and "bomb" the U. S. over pre-determined but unannounced routes. Army Anti-Aircraft Command, radar units and control centers in the civilian Ground Observer Corps will all be given a workout in the biggest maneuver of its kind since World War II. But it's secret.

Senate Out of Order
The Senate got itself all tangled up in parliamentary procedure when it came to voting on half a dozen different proposals for handling the steel strike.

Sen. Byrd of Virginia had a simple resolution requesting President Truman to use the Taft-Hartley Law. Senators Morse of Oregon, Humphrey of Minnesota, Monroney of Oklahoma and then Morse again offered substitutes authorizing various forms of seizure.

It was all very confusing. One reporter cracked: "If they ever get out of this mess, I'd like to know."
Vice President Barkley explained the situation in this simple, 75-word sentence:

"Any senator who offers an amendment to the Byrd amendment may modify his own amendment, whereas another senator could not do so, because if such a modification were offered by another senator, it would be in the form of an amendment in the third degree, whereas if an amendment to the Byrd amendment were modified by its own author, the modification would not be in the form of an amendment in the third degree."

Let Your House Guests Shine While You Provide Background

To insure the success of a party in your own home, keep the following dots and don't in mind:
Do choose your guests with the same care you combine colors in a room—considering their effect upon each other.
Don't decide that you will have a certain number of guests and then fill in the number even though it means dragging in a guest who doesn't really fit in with the others.
Do have some ideas in mind before the party starts of things you can do if your guests begin to seem bored or restless half way through the evening. But don't hesitate to discard your own ideas if the guests come up with better ones.
Do pay special attention to the shy guest, but not so obviously that he will feel you have noticed his shyness.
SUCCESSFUL HOSTESS FOLLOWS RULES UNCONSCIOUSLY
Don't take any verbal cracks at anyone not present. It will make your guests feel ill-at-ease to discover that their hostess has a critical attitude toward others and a sharp tongue.
Don't talk poor-mouth. The hostess who talks "poor" makes her guests feel that they are a burden.
Don't be a show-off at your own party. Let your guests shine and you provide the background. When a man says to his wife on the way home from a party: "That was a nice evening, wasn't it?" chances are he is remembering that he had a chance to shine, not that his hostess was fascinating.
All successful hostesses may not keep these pointers in mind, but the ones who don't usually follow them unconsciously, because they have an instinctive feeling for people and how to make them have a good time.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★
Drug Has Promising Results In Study of Motion Sickness

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
It is said that a person who becomes seasick is first afraid he is going to die and a little later afraid he is not. This may be an exaggeration, but certainly no one who has had a real experience with being seasick, airsick, or carsick, has any pleasant memories of the occasion.
For purposes of this discussion these experiences can be grouped together and called motion sickness. Although it is miserable, no one ever dies of motion sickness.
Nevertheless, if this condition could be prevented or relieved it would not only save a lot of suffering, but in some cases would bring about more important results.
During the war, for example, many badly needed sailors and air-men were more or less put out of action because of seasickness or airsickness.
Many people can adjust to the motion of ship, airplane, or car and get over it. Gaining "sea legs," it is called. But it is a real problem.
In one study of this subject from Canada, it was reported that a serious problem of airsickness existed during early training in the elementary air observer or bombing and gunnery school stages.
In this investigation, 825 men were swung back and forth in different body positions. The frequency of "airsickness" symptoms depended partly on the position of the body when it was swung and partly on the way in which the eyes could be used to keep a sense of position.
It was concluded that the inner ear was most important but that the eyes played a big part in motion sickness.
Many attempts have been made to find a drug which would prevent or at least improve the symptoms of motion sickness. Recently, a drug called dramamine (one of the anti-histamine family) has been tried out with highly promising results.
DRUG AIDED SOLDIERS
A study of seasickness and the use of this drug was conducted on over 1300 soldiers traveling on an army transport to Germany. Half of the 483 men were given dramamine and the other half a pill which looked like it.
Without going into the details of the study which have been criticized, this drug prevented seasickness in all but two of 134 men and relieved the symptoms in 34 others who had become seasick.
Although there is some debate on scientific grounds on the value of this drug, many individuals are convinced that it has helped them fight motion sickness. I know of some who have used it on their motion-sensitive dogs when traveling by automobile.

Table-Top Stove Is Picnic Boon

HOT PICNIC MEALS can be cooked on this table-top stove, a civilian cousin of a smaller stove used widely by American soldiers.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
When vacation days drag for the youngsters and hot weather indoors cooking drags for Mother, there's nothing like a warm outdoor meal in woods or roadside park or on the beach.
However, mothers don't relish building open fires, nor cooking over them. Furthermore, in many places they couldn't build fires if they wanted to, because of safety regulations.
But here's a simple way to fix hot nourishing food out of doors—just fill up a casserole with any one of a whole variety of complete-in-one-dish recipes and cook right on the picnic table with a table-top stove.

These table-top stoves are the civilian cousin of the Coleman pocket stoves almost every G. I. used in the war. They make their own gas from liquid fuel, light instantly and can be regulated just like the burner of a gas range.

Small enough to tuck away in a square corner of the car trunk, they burn four to five hours with one filling of fuel. They boil a pint of water in little more than two minutes.

Casseroles may be started in the oven at home and then heated up at the picnic spot, or entirely cooked outdoors. Glass casseroles must be heatproof, however.

A good substantial picnic stand-up is frankfurters and baked beans. But there's a big variety of wholesome recipes from which to choose.

Surprise Dad for the Fourth of July by whisking him away for an outdoor hot dinner—hell like the chance and you won't miss your hot kitchen.

Here's a tuna fish and noodle dish everyone in the family will like. It's easy to fix for that outdoor meal!

Tuna Fish and Noodles With Mushroom Cream Sauce
(5 servings)
One tablespoon chopped onion, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, 1 can cream of mushroom soup, 1 3/4 cups milk, one 7-ounce can tuna fish, 2 cups cooked noodles, 1 cup crushed potato chips.

Cook onion in butter until soft; stir cream of mushroom soup, milk and onion together. Break tuna into chunks; mix lightly with soup mixture and noodles. Place in greased 11-quart casserole. Top with potato chips. Peas and olives may be added if desired.

For home use, bake at 350 degrees F. moderate oven for 20 to 30 minutes. For picnic, either bake at home and heat up at picnic, or cook on table-top burner.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Tomato juice with lemon, ready-to-eat cereal, crisp bacon, coffee cake, coffee, milk.

Salvation Army Workers Carry Official Kits

It has been reported to the Salvation Army $100,000 new building campaign headquarters that unauthorized persons are soliciting funds in the name of the Salvation Army. It has been reported that these people do not carry official identification envelopes or the official receipts and anyone having knowledge of these unauthorized solicitors are requested to immediately contact the campaign office in the Dunlap Hotel where the phone number is 2403 or report the matter to the Jacksonville police.

All authorized workers in the campaign carry a large brown manila envelope and also official receipts which are attached to the pledge cards. The official pledge card is 8" by 4" and printed on bright yellow paper in blue ink with a red line above the word "Receipt".

and one below the word. An official receipt should be demanded from the worker every time a contribution is made.

The $100,000 to be raised by public subscription will go to build a new Salvation Army building on West Douglas avenue and will replace the present buildings on East Beecher avenue which have become antiquated and entirely too small in which to carry on the program of the Salvation Army in this community.

Peggy Coffman, Ray H. Ferguson Exchange Vows

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Williams before the altar decorated with palms and baskets of gladioli.

The bride's dress was of emerald-broidered organza made with a fitted bodice and a tiered skirt. She wore a finger tip veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses. Her father escorted her down the aisle.

Miss Sondra Coffman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Peggy Jean Wolfe and Sarah Allen. They wore ballerina length dresses of pastel organza and matching mitts. Their nosegays at the coronets were of carnations tinted to match their dresses.

Duane Bell was best man, and James Ferguson of Roodhouse and Steve Parks, of Columbus, Ga., cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Punch was poured by Rebecca Tennill and Donna Martin. Mrs. Howard Thompson served the cake. The guests were registered by Ann Smith.

Street Markers Cost Less Than Was Estimated

The purchase and erection of metal street signs for all Jacksonville street intersections was one job that was done below the estimated cost.

Reporting for the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Harlan Lee Williams told the city council last night the entire cost of the project was $5,134.75. It had been estimated that the materials would cost $5,400, but the entire job was held below that figure.

Jaycees donated their labor for setting the steel standards in concrete and bolting on the signs to the posts—this figured up 1150 man hours which didn't cost Jacksonville a penny. The young business men volunteered to set up a new system of street signs and a civic contribution, with the city furnishing the materials.

"When a job is done for less than the estimated cost, that is something out of the ordinary," Acting Mayor Chumley declared. "The Junior Chamber of Commerce has helped to give the city a modern system of street signs at a very economical cost."

Baby Clothes

Comfort Is the Key

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Clothes for your baby during the hot weather months need not be fashionable, but they must be practical.

Choose garments of light-weight cotton (they will absorb perspiration). Wool can be terribly irritating to a baby's tender skin, especially in the summer. Remember, too, that plump babies generate their own heat, and need much less clothing than you do.

The best rule to follow at any season, however, is never over-dress your baby. She will be much more apt to catch cold if you do. You can easily find out if the baby is warm enough by touching her arms or legs. Don't let cold hands worry you. Most babies' hands tend to be cool at all times.

Watch out for clothes that are too tight and restrict your infant's movements. On exceptionally hot and humid days, all the baby has to wear is a thin cotton shirt and diaper.

No matter what the weather, it is usually a good idea to have stockings on the baby's feet. Cotton or silk are the best materials in summer. Take care to see that the stockings are long enough, and allow for toe wiggling. Since colored materials may stain or have some substance which might cause irritation, white stockings are safest.

Of course, you can help to keep baby feeling cool and comfortable when the mercury goes up. Occasional sponge baths and powder dustings are great aids. Never keep your baby in the sun for too long, particularly on windy days. She will get a much better and healthier tan if you time the exposure periods.

New Insecticides Carry Triple Threat to Pests

Look for all these insects to invade your vegetable plot.

While D.D.T. still kills more different garden insects than any one prewar preparation, new formulations are now available which research workers consider even better than D.D.T.

Aphids or plant lice, which drink plant juices, are not all destroyed by D.D.T., though some are. Lindane, one of the new materials, kills all aphids plus the beetles, worms, leaf hoppers and flea beetles which D.D.T. destroys.

Lindane is a chemical refinement of a German chemical imported when the war ended. In its original form it was handicapped by a bad odor, but this has been removed. Like D.D.T., lindane kills the insects which it hits, and leaves a residue on the plants which is fatal to pests that eat or walk on it. It also produces a vapor which is fatal to insects that breathe it.

Chlordane, another triple threat to plant pests, is now recommended for destroying insects that are in the soil or crawl about on it. It destroys ants, cutworms, chiggers, wire worms and the like.

A great convenience for the amateur gardener is an all purpose dust, containing materials which will destroy both insects and fungous diseases which may attack plants, without the necessity of a diagnosis. A duster can be filled with such a dust and kept handy.

At the first sign of trouble in the garden, it can be used to cover the affected plants with a film of protective dust, before damage has been done. Sprays that give equal protection are also available, and can be used the same way.

In application, a plant should be enveloped in a cloud of dust so that all leaf and stem surfaces are covered. Spray should be applied so that the entire plant is drenched and there is a heavy run off.

Experienced gardeners get to know the insects which every year attack their gardens.

Aphids or plant lice, red, black but mostly green, often cling to the underside of leaves, or on the growing ends of growing vegetables, multiplying with amazing rapidity. Rotenone, pyrethrum, or nicotine dust or spray will kill them if used at the first sign of their arrival.

Striped cucumber beetles appear on young plants of cucumbers, squash and melons as soon as they start growing. A handsome yellow bug with three black stripes, it infects the plant with a wilt disease, as well as eating the leaves.

Flea beetles are tiny flea-like fliers which bore small holes in the leaves of cabbage, egg-plant, and tomatoes.

Leaf-hoppers are like grasshoppers, one eighth inch long, which never stay put but swarm as you approach the beans they are feeding on. Lindane and D.D.T. kill them magically as they walk over the leaves on which there is an insecticide residue.

Squash bugs are reddish-brown, to black, three quarters of an inch long, which lay eggs in clusters on the under-side of squash leaves.

The Mexican bean beetle is the black sheep of the lady-bug family. It is coppery brown with 8 black spots on each wing cover, and lays yellow egg clusters on the under-side of the bean leaves.

Cabbage worms are hatched from eggs laid by white butterflies, and feed on cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and kohlrabi. When you see the white butterflies, spray or dust the plants.

WHAT IS YOUR CHILD'S 'T. Q.?'

This is a new age for childhood! The old rule of "Hands off, Junior," just doesn't apply. Telephones are for everybody—that's why children should be taught the basic rules of telephone techniques as early as possible!

Why? Because children need the security of knowing how to use the telephone in an emergency! Because children need to contact their friends and social organizations now in ways not required by our former tempo of living. Because children who can answer the telephone intelligently are an asset to the home and the community!

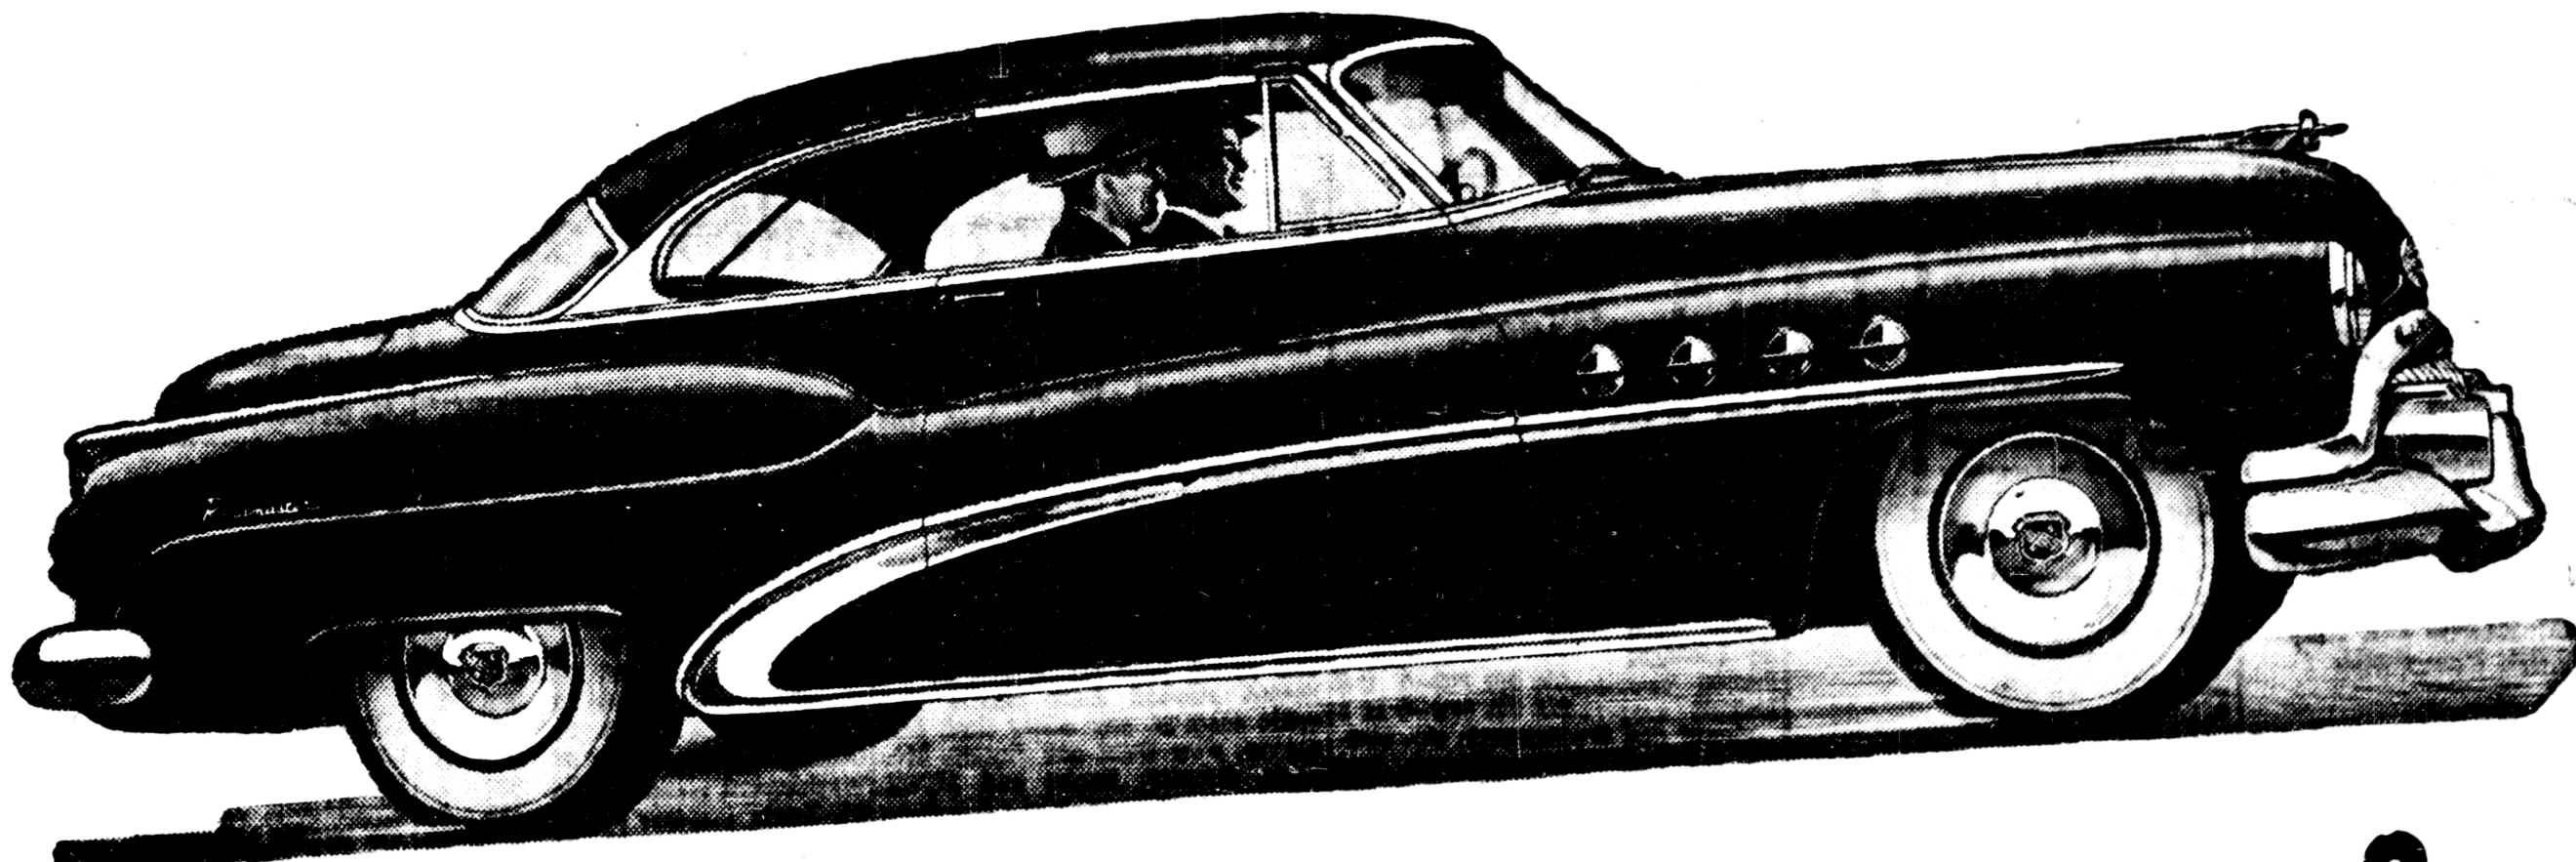

Your child can have the highest "TQ" in your neighborhood!

Have you tried Buick's POWER STEERING?

smoothness that make this ROADMASTER so distinguished among fine cars.

Where then, you ask, does Power Steering come in?

When you want to get into—or out of—a tight spot at the curb, Power Steering takes over the extra effort of turning the wheels, and you can forget the two-tons-plus of automobile you're handling.

When you want to turn around in a narrow space—Power Steering lets you get the last inch of benefit from Buick's short turning radius, because it makes the maneuver so easy.

When one front wheel hits a bump, a chuckhole, loose sand or dirt at the edge of a road—Power Steering takes up the jerk—makes control of the wheel easier and therefore safer.

Many folks who have tried it tell us that Power Steering has added almost as much to the pleasure of owning a Buick as Dynaflo Drive.

When would you like to try it?

Redbirds Rally To Win Nightcap; Roe Pitches First

Brooklyn, June 24.—(P)—A four-run outburst, climaxed by Del Rice's fourth home run of the season, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight and earned them a split in their day-night twin bill. Unbeaten Preacher Roe scattered six hits for his seventh straight win and a 6-0 Dodger triumph in the afternoon.

The Cards, trailing 4-3, kayoed Chris Van Cuyk with their winning sixth-inning rally. It was the fourth time the Cards had beaten the big southpaw who has lost to no other club.

Stan Musial began the attack by beating out a slow roller through the box.

Enos Slaughter doubled to score Musial. Peanuts Lowrey, whose first inning home run had accounted for the first three Cardinal runs, lined out, but Billy Johnson came through with a single that scored Slaughter with the lead run and sent Van Cuyk to the showers. Rice greeted right-hander Clem Labine with his fourth homer of the year to complete the scoring.

Roberts, Meyer Pitch Phillies To Double Victory

Philadelphia, June 24.—(P)—Russ Meyer, with an assist from reliever Jim Konstanty, edged the Chicago Cubs 2 to 1 in the nightcap of a two-night twin bill tonight after Robin Roberts had whipped the Cubs 6 to 0 in the opener with a 9-0 hit performance.

Konstanty came into the game in the eighth with the lone Chicago run already across, men on first and third and only one out. Big Jim got Sauer to foul out and Phil Cavarretta to ground out to first baseman Eddie Waitkus.

And in the ninth, Konstanty—the relief mainstay of the Phillies—penned drive in 1950—tossed out Dee Fondy himself, fanned Bill Serena and forced Roy Smalley to ground out to Waitkus.

Dodger Ball Club Is $24,436 Short, Grand Jury Finds

New York, June 24.—(P)—A special Brooklyn grand jury reported today it had confirmed a shortage of $24,436 in funds of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team. It added it did not know where the money had gone.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald, announcing completion of the grand jury's investigation, said it was unable to obtain any evidence to warrant an indictment.

The shortage was determined by an accounting of ticket sales and other records. The grand jury heard testimony from a number of business office employees of the ball club.

Turnesa-Harbert Gain Finals Of PGA Meet

Louisville, June 24.—(P)—Jim Turnesa, nervous sixth son of the famous golfing family, and Melvin (Chick) Harbert, a husky fighter of the links, shot through 110-degree temperature and inspired opposition today to gain the finals of the PGA championship.

The bronzed, 39-year-old Turnesa, knocked off Ted Kroll, the little upstart from New Hartford, N. Y., in a sensational birdie duel, 4 and 2.

Harbert, son of a retired Detroit professional, came from behind with a brilliant scrambling exhibition to oust Bob Hamilton, cigar-chomping ex-champion from Evansville, Ind., 2 and 1. He broke Hamilton's back with a string of six straight threes, including four birdies, on the third nine.

Harbert and Turnesa clash Wednesday over the 6,620-yard, par 72 big spring golf course for the $3,500 first prize which neither has won, although both have swept within a notch of it.

Turnesa was runnerup in 1942, the third of his brothers to gain that bracket, but Sam Snead brought him down in a great match, 2 and 1. Harbert lost by the same margin to big Jim Ferrier in the 1947 finals at Detroit.

The semifinals today were dog-eat-dog battles, in which most of the holes were won and lost in birdies.

New Cubs Smite Cards 10-3 In Twilight Loop

Strengthened by five boys up from the afternoon leagues, the Little League Cubs thrashed the stand-pat Cardinals 10-3 in a twilight loop battle on State Hospital diamond yesterday afternoon.

Cub manager Bill Schildman reached down into the "minor leagues" and drew on five athletes to bolster his faltering forces. And this action paid off in full as his Bruins showed more hustle and spirit than at any other time this season. New Cubs are Butler, McNear, Schultz, Banks and Myers.

Bill Norvell pitched for the Cubs and set the Redbirds down with just four hits.

Reynolds and Baldwin pitched for the Cards and allowed nine safe blows.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS
The Illinois junior softball tournament will get underway in Taylorville next Tuesday. The Veterans of Foreign Wars and Amateur Softball Association are co-sponsors of this big tournament.

With Clint Arenz' Jacksonville Cozy Dog nine the defending champion, some 16 junior clubs will vie for the state title and a trip to the national finals. The Squires may join the Cozy Dogs in the tournament giving our city two substantial representatives in Taylorville.

The national finals are to be held in Greenville, Tennessee, from July 23-27. The Jacksonville youngsters competed in the double-elimination national meet at Okmulgee, Oklahoma, last year.

By virtue of its state title last year, Arenz' club has been invited to compete at Greenville again this time. But the lads would still like to repeat their victory in the state tournament in spite of the fact that they automatically qualify for the nationals.

And Arenz' emphatically states that he intends to take the Cozy Dogs to Greenville in July. Not only that, he's going to take his younger Coca Cola nine to Tennessee to compete in the junior-junior part of the tournament.

There's a man who's going to have his hands full. But Clint Arenz' always spends his vacation, as well as his extra money, on the kids. He wouldn't have it any other way.

Pirates Request Greenberg Garden Be Removed

Boston, June 24.—(P)—The last place Pittsburgh Pirates today decided to ask the club to remove "Greenberg Gardens"—the home-run hitting paradise at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

The players requested Howie Pollet, their representative, to convey their wishes to General Manager Branch Rickey when the Bucs return to Pittsburgh Friday.

"We've been losing too many games when players on other teams dump fly balls into those burlens," Pollet said as he discussed "Greenberg Gardens"—named after Hank Greenberg. "That fence is doing other teams in the league a lot more good than it does the Pirates."

The fence to which Pollet referred was erected 30 feet in front of the Pirate scoreboard in left field back in 1947 when Greenberg came to the Pirates from the Detroit Tigers. Originally the fence was eight feet high along its length to left-center field but before the 1948 season it was increased to 16 feet.

Without the fence, the distance from home plate to left field is 365 feet. With it, a home run hitter only has to smash the ball 335 feet.

This year Pirate sluggers have dropped 16 homers into the "Gardens" while their National League opponents have collected 21.

In Pittsburgh Rickey could not be reached for comment.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette—which has kept statistics on the "Garden" homers—said the Pirates actually have hit more than their opponents. The Post-Gazette said the Bucs have smashed 231 "Garden" circuit clouts while the combined opposition garnered 225.

A team spokesman said Ralph Kiner, the home run hitter of the Bucs, voted in favor of removing the fence despite the fact that 64 of the 246 homers he has hit at Forbes Field have been of the "Garden" variety.

Promise Fair Weather For Maxim-Ray Fight

By Jack Hand
New York, June 24.—(P)—Joey Maxim and Sugar Ray Robinson sweated it out in the gyms today, awaiting Wednesday's once-postponed light heavyweight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

As luck would have it, a warm sun, with no rain, was forecast Wednesday, but he also forecast scattered thundershowers late in the day.

The fight could not be held tonight because of a mutual no-fight agreement between the New York Yankees and Giants. The Giants were playing a twilight-night doubleheader at home with Cincinnati.

If postponed Wednesday, the bout will go on Thursday despite a Dodger-Giant game at the Polo Grounds. This was a "write in" game not originally scheduled, and thus is not covered in the Yank-Giant pact.

Strong Robinson support, appearing shortly after Monday's original weigh-in, changed the odds from 5 to 3 and "pick em" to make Sugar Ray a 13 to 10 favorite in his bid for a third title.

Sugar Ray, the middleweight champ, weighed 160 to Maxim's 174 1/2 Monday but they must weigh again Wednesday.

Because Maxim must make 175 pounds or less and Robinson has no weight problem, many feel the postponement will be more of a strain on the champ from Cleveland. The two-day wait is bound to have some effect.

Sugar Ray's only danger is in going too far past 160 and slowing himself down. That was why he looked up in the gym Monday.

After he finished he weighed 157 1/2, or 2 1/2 pounds less than he did Monday. Sugar Ray said he would come in Wednesday at about 159 1/2.

The 15-round bout, scheduled for 8 p.m. (CST) will not be carried on home television or radio in the United States. It will be beamed to some 39 theaters in 25 cities on a closed theater-TV circuit.

New York, June 24.—(P)—New York's Bobby Thomson and Hank Thompson were the big guns on attack tonight as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1 and 7-4 to climb within four games of the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hank Thompson, who hit his 14th home run and a double to drive in three runs in the nightcap.

Television Fans May See Vejar-Davey Battle

Detroit, June 24.—(P)—Chico Vejar's ever-circling feet and Chuck Davey's ever-cut eyebrows will be the big question marks in their 10-round televised battle before a near sellout crowd at Olympia Stadium Wednesday night.

Vejar, who made a defensive fight in losing a decision to Davey May 7, has changed his tactics. He plans to keep circling in on Davey from the right side. Davey is a southpaw with a devastating left jab.

Davey suffered bad cuts on his eyebrows in his disputed draw with Carmen Basilio at Syracuse recently and often before was chopped up above the eyes.

It's a cinch that Vejar, New York University drama student, will aim for Davey's eyes.

But Davey, undefeated graduate student from Michigan State making his first appearance as a headliner in his home city of Detroit, ranks as a 9 to 5 favorite.

The fight will be telecast and broadcast nationally starting at 8 p.m. CST. A crowd of more than 15,000 was predicted by promoters.

Davey's eyes were so badly cut that he was unable to appear for a scheduled May 11 fight with Vejar here. The cuts are completely healed now.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

XIV
WHEN we came within sight of the lodge, Professor Ordell and Miss Hansen rode ahead to prepare Mrs. James for the shock. She, the sheriff, Bob, Dick, Rhumba and the officers were waiting, as well as the Albert family, Patsy, Duper, and old Jed Downey from the gate house.

Mrs. James was pale but held herself under control. Bob seemed the most hurt. Dr. David Roberts patted his shoulder comfortingly.

Within an hour Duncan came clattering up to the lodge on horseback. "Found your car, Miss Curtis," he said. "Figured that whoever shot at you at Horseshoe Springs probably wanted to get that bullet out of your car. He was the same person, maybe, who is responsible for the other dirt around here."

"Where'd you find it?" I asked. "Down on the rocks below the cliff. It's a mess, and the bullet's gone." He hesitated a moment and then said, "I guess you know Elsie Martinson drove a car like yours."

After the sergeant left, I thought of Mrs. Ordell, still imprisoned in the cave, of her husband, still grief-stricken over the belief that she was dead. Perhaps David had gone to Mrs. Ordell now.

I looked at the Professor who stood by the window, stooped, tired, his pale face set in sad lines as he watched curlew white clouds gathering over Old Baldy. My sympathy and natural liking for him overcame my memory of Mrs. Ordell's request for me to tell Bob of her imprisonment in the cave and not to tell the Professor. On impulse, I decided that I would be the one to tell him the glad news.

I opened my lips to speak when a commotion and voices on the lodge porch stopped me. Sergeant Duncan entered escorting a woman by the arm. She was a large, rather coarse looking woman, pretty after a fashion, with thick, curly auburn red hair and Irish eyes.

A clatter of horses' hooves accompanied their entrance and the David Roberts swung off a badly lathered horse. I did not imagine that David would so misuse a horse.

The Doctor came up to the lodge steps three at a time. He was dirty with splashed mud and dust and looked tired to the point of collapse.

"If you folks will very kindly follow me," he said, "I shall take you to an unusual and impromptu inquest. I believe that we have the murderer, the killer who murdered Elsie Martinson and who stabbed Mrs. Ordell."

DAVID began herding all of us out of the lodge and up the trail, toward the stream. I spoke to Susie, who lay quietly suffering. "Wait, good dog, I'll come back to you."

We did not go to the water hole. I was thankful for that. Instead we went up the shoulder of the mountain where the willows had stood when I crawled from the passageway.

Now the bushes lay in a heap, uprooted beside a pile of damp earth and rocks. The entrance to the cave had been enlarged until, by stooping, one could enter the rocky little tunnel with comparative ease. David and I entered first. After the sunshine of the outer world the large room of the cave seemed very dim in spite of the candles that glowed bravely. Gradually I began to see more plainly.

Mrs. Ordell still lay in the bunk against the wall but looked less pale and much happier. A bright fire burned on the rude hearth and a big pile of coffee simmered fragrantly on the iron crane over the fire.

And then I saw the man of the pool. He had been standing against the rocky wall, all but indiscernible in the dim light. He stepped forward to greet us. He was wearing a pair of faded overalls and a blue work shirt, which though unironed, were clean. His hair was slicked down with water as neatly as a school boy's. He was clean shaven and one could see that he had dressed very carefully.

He came quietly to meet us. I remembered my abject terror the first time I saw the cave. Yet this man who stood before us was not at all frightening. Just a rather small, stocky countryman with one of the saddest faces imaginable.

David spoke quickly as he heard the group coming through the passageway to the cave. "Miss Curtis, this is Sam Burdick. Mr. Burdick saved Mrs. Ordell's life and deserves a great deal of credit."

Again confusion confounded me. Here before me stood the man I had before believed might be Mrs. Ordell's assailant. This man whom I had believed to be nothing less than a monster extended his hand and so strong is the urge of convention, I shook his hand.

Then the Professor saw Mrs. Ordell.

SILENTLY he stared at her for a long unbelieving second. Then with a low sob he ran to her and threw himself upon his knees beside the bunk, catching her gently, but oh so protectingly, in his arms.

"Mamie," he wept. "Oh, Mamie. You are safe. Oh, thank God. Why did you not send word to me that you were here? Has this man hurt you? Who hurt you, my darling? Oh, my dear, how can I ever make up to you for such neglect?"

His words tumbled from his lips as his voice shook with tenderness and emotion.

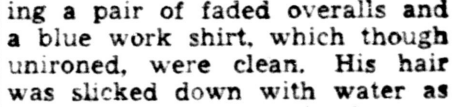

Mrs. Ordell gently smoothed the thin hair on his head as tears slowly ran down her pale cheeks.

Dr. Roberts interrupted this pathetic scene. "Now, Professor, will you and the others seat yourselves and we will get through this as quickly as possible. We all have some explaining to do."

Annual Girls' State Begins 12th Session At MacMurray College

Four hundred twenty girls from all parts of Illinois began arriving in Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon for an eight-day session of Illinois Girls' State at MacMurray College. Fifty volunteer administrators were either on hand to greet the Girls' Staters or came with them.

This is the 12th annual session of Girls' State, which is sponsored by the Illinois department of the American Legion auxiliary. The first session began Tuesday evening with a speech of welcome by the retiring president of MacMurray College, Dr. Clarence P. McClelland, and a "get acquainted" informal party afterwards. The program will wind up Wednesday morning, July 2.

The girls, who are chosen and sent here by local American Legion auxiliary posts throughout the state, were divided into political parties, the Federalist and the Nationalist, when they registered Tuesday afternoon. Also divided into cities and counties, they will participate both in the activities of their parties and in the workings of city and county government.

Elections Saturday

The girls received instruction from the state officers elected in 1931 on the operations of city, county and state government. One speaker noted that the success of Girls' State depends in greatest measure upon the way you enter into the operations of your city government. The city is the very basis of Girls' State government.

In political conventions, primaries and general elections the delegates will select city, county and state officials. The climax to this phase of Girls' State will occur Saturday morning, when balloting for all state officers, from governor down, will take place. The successful candidates will be inaugurated into office in solemn ceremonies Saturday afternoon.

An official of the state of Illinois traditionally swears in the successful candidates. Last year it was Earl Searcy, clerk of the state Supreme Court. Judy Harrison, elected governor of Illinois Girls' State in 1931, presided over the proceedings at the opening session Tuesday evening. She hailed from Beverly Hills, Ill. She introduced President McClelland and the second main speaker of the evening, Mrs. Fred Dismore of Sheldon, president of the Illinois department of the Legion auxiliary.

Other officials present include Mrs. W. Glenn Suthers of Chicago, dean and director of education, and Mrs. H. L. Hamilton of Bridgeport, administrative head and director of activities.

Mrs. Suthers told the Girls' Staters that the central thought she wished them to learn during the week-long sessions here is that any democratic government is just as effective and strong as the citizens choose to make it. Girls' State is no exception. Prize your vote here and learn to prize your right of franchise to come. If you do, you will learn to resist the encroachment of government upon our liberties.

A list of speakers including a number of state administration officials and members of the Illinois General Assembly will speak to the Girls' Staters.

Springfield Tour

On Tuesday, July 1, the entire Girls' State membership will travel to Springfield to witness a session of the General Assembly, visit various state governmental departments, visit the tomb of Illinois' first citizen, Abraham Lincoln, and take a tour of New Salem State Park near Petersburg. A formal banquet will precede this expedition on Monday night.

The entire program is part of the nationwide citizenship program formulated by the American Legion and American Legion auxiliary. Nearly every state in the Union has a Boys' and Girls' State sponsored by these organizations.

One of the Girls' State officials here pointed out that "we think this program is one of the most important developed by any organization in the nation during the present generation. In this fiery time of trial for democracy and in view of the fact that the American people are facing one of the most important election campaigns in their history this summer and fall, it is essential that the youth of America should have a close acquaintance with the fundamentals of their government on all levels, local, state and national."

Our Saviour's Auxiliary Gives 2nd Large Check

A check for $2,394.11 presented to Our Saviour's hospital Friday is the second large amount given by its Auxiliary recently. The two gifts of money for hospital improvements were only three months apart.

The latest check, which will pay for new laboratory equipment at the hospital, was handed over by Mrs. Robert Perkins, Auxiliary treasurer, during a general meeting of the organization at the Nurses Home. Sister Claudine, Holy Cross nurse who is administrator of the hospital, commended the Auxiliary highly as she accepted the present.

The group of women has worked so hard, she said, so wholeheartedly in its devotion to the cause of Our Saviour's hospital; and not only are its efforts praiseworthy but its accomplishments are a source of greatest help to the hospital. She expressed her gratitude and that of all the personnel to each member of the Auxiliary who has donated her time and service to the Coffee Shop, where most of the funds are raised.

Through the efforts of these women the Coffee Shop was constructed and equipped, at a cost of about $2,100, in a central location within the hospital just last autumn. They are the ones who have kept it going, by working there voluntarily and without pay, and with contributions of food for its counter and articles for the Gift Shop which is a part of it.

17,650 Hours Donated There have been 17,650 hours of volunteer service at the Coffee Shop recorded since its opening Oct. 1, 1931.

The gifts sold there, many of them handmade, are chosen by the contributors as especially suited to the needs of hospital patients, those who are ill or those who are mothers of newly born infants.

The Coffee Shop has proven to be an extremely successful method of earning money for hospital needs. Before its opening the Auxiliary gave $600 to Our Saviour's, which covered the cost of an incubator. Less than six months after its beginning, the women were able to present the hospital with a $3,010 check.

This sum, contributed March 17, was used to purchase additional dishwashers to equipment.

The general meeting of the Auxiliary Friday was conducted by Mrs. W. J. Casler, newly elected president. Reports of various committees were heard.

Mrs. Arthur J. Lauff told about recent progress of the Gift Shop.

Lists 33 New Members The names of 33 new members were contained in the membership report given by Miss Catherine Cain. Names of food donors to the shop since April 30 were read in a list prepared by Mrs. D. L. Whitehurst, Coffee Shop manager.

Mrs. Ray Broekel, chart chairman, reported, as did Mrs. R. M. Norris of the social committee.

Mrs. Charles J. Ryan was elected to serve on the executive board of the Auxiliary for a three year term. Mrs. D. T. Cloud, who has served as a member of the board, is leaving Jacksonville.

It was announced that no executive board meetings will be held during July or August. The next general meeting of the Auxiliary will take place in September.

A tea followed the session, according to the Auxiliary's custom. Summer refreshments were served from a table decorated with flowers and tapers.
